

Our COVID-19 Response

DISCUSSION SUMMARY

Home for Hope Foundation concern

In March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic reached Rwanda, impacting the country like the rest of the world.

To reduce the spread of the virus, the Rwandan government implemented strict measures, including a lockdown and country-wide restrictions. These measures, while necessary, created a significant challenge: many people were unable to work and struggled to find food while confined to their homes.

In response, the Home for Hope Foundation stepped in to support vulnerable children from impoverished families, particularly those with children already under our educational care. These families were in need of direct food assistance.

HAND WASHING

During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Home for Hope Foundation (HFHF) actively supported the government's "Hand Washing" initiative by educating beneficiaries on the importance of regular hand hygiene.

FOOD SHARING

The Home for Hope Foundation (HFHF) supported the government's "Stay at Home" program during the fight against COVID-19 by providing food to beneficiaries, ensuring that the children in our care did not go hungry.
